FREEWAY ARM MAY HALT RESTAURANT BUILDING PLANS

The practicability of setting up an entrance road for a proposed new restaurant on the west side of San Jose-Los Gatos Road, was taken under advisement by the Campbell Planning Commission on Thursday after Homer Hyde, secretary of the commission read letters from the city engineer, County Health Department, County Planners, County Engineer, Sanitation District No. 4, State division of Highways, Pacific Telephone Company and the PG&E Company, denoting their interest in the project. Plans submitted by the applicants, Ivan Kucich who says he will erect a $100,000 restaurant there, and apartments on the east bank of Joseph Giannini who will build Los Gatos Creek, proposed a road designated as Alonzo Drive to intersect with the highway opposite Ridgely Drive.

State Division of Highways indicated that the site of the proposed development was within scope of Route 5 Freeway rights of way. Engineers were interested in drainage plans. The matter was deferred until October 20 so that applicants may resubmit tentative map which will conform with requirements by these various agencies.

Plans for two new service stations were approved by the commission. Shell Oil Company is to erect attractive station to anchor the Winchester Shop Center at Latimer and Winchester, stipulation being that there be no north side entrance. Union Oil Company wants a permit for a station on site east of the Shop Center on lands formerly owned by Dave Rutherford and stipulation is that a 3-1 parking ratio be provided.

Planners referred to the City Attorney a letter reporting that Rose Marie Roberts who had allegedly operated a beauty shop since before the city was incorporated in a residential zone on South First Street is now at Nottingham Way, reportedly operating a beauty shop in a residential area.

O. V. Vossler, pastor of a church on Railroad Avenue, asked permission to move a house from near the church to a new location at the rear, so that parking area can be provided, and was advised to put his request to the planners in writing.

The Chamber of Commerce may hold scheduled meetings as also will the Junior Chamber of Commerce who are responsible for upkeep of the grounds.

Next scheduled meeting of the Chamber of Commerce is to be October 4th.

CAMPBELL NEEDS A CITY HALL

There is definite need in Campbell for a city hall to meet growing civic needs. Any person who has sat through a meeting of the Planning Commission at the fire station must realize the cramped condition there. the disturbances from police and fire calls and the makeshift seating arrangement.

Meetings are frequently interrupted by emergency telephone calls, while the police short wave calls go on and on. If an arrest is made, there is no place to bring the accused except to the station where records are kept in an alcove of the meeting room. This is not a just test for any offender, regardless of the charge, and officers do not have the privacy to interrogate there as they should. Many times there are not enough chairs or chair spaces for people having interest in proceedings of the commission and some have to stand in the next room which houses the three fire engines. Adjacent to that is the office of the city clerk, which is hardly as large as an ordinary sized bedroom.

The clerk's office keeps official records and has desk space for two, a counter where interviews are made. It is far too small for proper work conditions.

The Planners meet twice a month, but also the City Council must meet in this building if an adjourned or special meeting is scheduled. Regular meetings of the Council are at the Country Woman's Club, and there again conditions are makeshift. Acoustics are bad and voices are not directed toward the audience. Records are brought to the meeting in brief cases and accordion files. There are no wall maps and not even a calendar on the wall.

Campbell is now a City worthy of housing its own public offices and its own public meeting places. A favorable vote on this measure October 18 will correct this situation and make it possible to start a civic center program of lasting importance and pride.

CHANGE AT STANFORD

There is a change going on around the campus of Stanford University. The fat, friendly horses and the frisky colts no longer roam the pastures, and the Paul Scarlet roses that ran for miles along the highway are gone.

Modern and big stores have replaced the pasture lands. Science firms go about their work with hundreds of cars parked about awaiting those whom they employ. Book publishing firms are finding sites, and the long, winding, adventuresome paths through the eucalyptus groves are becoming wide open spaces macadamed for shoppers. Efforts to subdivide, however, have been rebuffed.

The rolling hills, so characteristic of Stanford and immortalized in the University Hymn, are to be preserved as an undeveloped, scenic backdrop to the warm sandstone and tile-roofed quadrangle.

With development of idle lands moving forward the University trustees voted the hills remain free of non-conforming structures. Drifting skylines within the campus boundaries are in this control, embracing some 3,700 acres of land. Just so long as it remains that way, the warmth of one of America's most beautiful university campuses will not be smothered with subdivisions, stores and freeways.

In addition, this group of men have had a number of books made into braille for the blind children who attend Quito. Various ways were used to raise money for these projects, one of which is the popular and successful annual junior boxing matches. Other events were whist parties and chuck wagon breakfasts.

HEAVY LINE BOLSTERS BUCS' 1955 PROSPECTS

By Steven Dunn

Campbell High School, defending SCVAL champions, in opening the 1955 season, Friday, September 30 here in a practice game against Lincoln High of San Jose, is preparing to send one of the heaviest lines in the history of the school on the field, according to Coach Jim Muir. The line will average 184 pounds, biggest of these being tackles Mike Profit, 199 and Roger Lukehart, 193. Smallest starter is to be Gary Lamb,center, at 163 pounds, while the two guards Hector Cardova and Fred Esparza tip the beams at 182 and 185 respectively and the two ends Tom Clark and Dallas Sutton weigh in at 179 and 186.

Of these seven starting linesmen, five are lettermen.

Serving as replacements and pushing hard for top berths will be Jerry McSpadden and Charlie Cordona at both ends, Mike Browne and John Duncan at the two tackle spots, Gary Prnjak and Glen Cureton at the two guard positions and Ron Tommasini at center.

In the backfield, starting at the key spot of quarterback will be Jerry Sutton who gained experience with the Junior Varsity last year and is classed as a good ball handler.

The one returning letterman in the back field will be Russ Cahill who last year averaged seven yards per carry. This year he should be one of the more powerful runners in the league.

At left half Tom Jenkins, a converted fullback with a great desire to play football, will step into the shoes of Doug Harrison, who moved to Colorado.

Finally at right half Tony LoBue who is a real hustler and hard worker and who has varsity experience, will start.

Backing up these starters in the backfield will be Bud Scribner, Dick Mills, Calvin Vargas, and Ray Nishijima.

Head coach Jim Muir, who is assisted by line coach Mel Stein, when asked about championship hopes for the team stated that there will be an even race in the SCVAL this year and 4 or 5 teams have a chance to win the championship.

San Mateo Teacher To Head League Of Cities, Peninsula

At a meeting of the Peninsula Division, League of California Cities last Thursday night at Rickey's, Victor G. Binsacca, San Mateo State College teacher and Mayor of San Mateo, was elected president for the new term, succeeding Richard Morton, Mayor of Campbell.

Mayor David Tripiano of Mountain View was named vice-president and William Cornett of San Mateo was elected secretary-treasurer.

Charles Burgess, Menlo Park mayor and state president of the league, was named director-at-large.

Howard Gardner, league associate director, forecast the recently enacted 1 per cent sales tax will be "discussed very thoroughly" at the league's annual conference to be held Sept. 19-21 in San Francisco.

Tripiano, chairman of Santa Clara County Inter-City Council's sales tax committee, said to date six of the 13 cities in the county have adopted resolutions asking the county to enact the tax, and requesting local retention of the revenue.

Campbell Has Good Prospects For 'B' Team

The B football team of Campbell Union High School, coached by Ken Duddridge and his assistant Hal Raley, is to meet Washington there in its first tiff, Friday, October 7.

Prospects for the team this year may be termed good. Players returning from last year will be Tom Perry, Jim Henry, Robbie Goff, Dave Alvarez, Matt Perez, and Walt Vierra in the backfield and Mamori Jio, Jim Keech, Jim Nobles, Don Peterson, Lee Smith, Ernie Speno, Tom Farley and Frank Koontz in the line. Also bolstering the team will be such new players as Ron Corbus, Jim Cole, Carl Carlentini, Mickie Filing, David Hoover, and Jim Omura. Team spirit is high and the club should be strong in both the line and the backfield. Coach Duddridge can be quoted as saying "If the boys continue to show the desire to play football that they have to date, we will have a successful season."

At present in the battle for the different positions Jim Omura and Mickie Filing are tentative starters as the two ends, Lee Smith and Don Peterson as tackles, Mamori Jio and Tom Farley as guards, Tom Perry as quarterback, Jim Henry as fullback and Matt Perez and Robbie Goff as halfbacks.

At center it is a tossup between Jim Nobles and Jim Cole.
